

Uth Mission Trip 2010

Asheboro, NC (August 13-15 2010)

Where are we going?

Josh and Laura Leroy lead an organization that ministers to bridge the gap of racial reconciliation in Asheboro, NC. Many families in the area they serve have been forgotten, abandoned, and left feeling without hope. Students and parents will have an opportunity to serve REAL people (in REAL need) who live only an hour away from Kernersville.

What are we doing?

We focus on two primary areas of ministry: people and home improvement. This many include Odd jobs around the homes of elderly and handicapped families, painting, yard work, and/or minor repairs on homes.

How much will this cost?

$65 per person (this covers everything: food, lodging, travel, & work supplies) We recommend that every student bring some spending money or extra cash (5-10 dollars). No spot is reserved until deposit ($50) is turned in. No payment can be returned after April 1st.

Who can go?

Students in 6-8th grades (parents are welcomed if student approves)

Summary of Event

We are going to stay at the Wesleyan Church Campground in Sophia, NC and drive (10 minutes) to our worksites each day. We will be working in safe areas and there will be plenty of adult supervision and protection the entire time.

The trip will last 3 days, beginning on Friday at 10 AM and ending in the afternoon/evening on Sunday. This will be short trip that will involved work, play, and teaching time. Students will be challenged to think about life differently and better understand what "social justice" really means.
